

We are sure in a better mood around here with some rainfall this past week. Armstrong received 5.91 inches of precipitation and Neely-Kinyon (NK) received 3.71 inches for the week.

Activities:

Finished preparations for field day on the 17th. 27 people in attendance on a perfect day of weather

Randy continues harvest of garden produce with the help of Master Gardeners

Continue maintenance and checking over harvest equipment at both farms

Finished cleaning out a grain bin and spraying them down

Cleaning and mowing in preparation for Dr. Delate's organic field day at NK this week the 22nd.

Sat in on Leopold Center listening session held at the Learning Center this past week

Continued work on FIMS project in preparation for technician to come in this week

I would like to thank Shawn Shouse, Aaron Saeugling and Chris Clark for organizing the field day this past week.

Special thanks to Garland Dahlke, Mark Licht and Tim Youngquist for doing a great job of speaking and describing their research projects at the farm. Was enjoyed by all in attendance.

A big thanks goes to Paulette Cambridge for her organizing and helping with the field day. Her expertise is priceless.

Thanks also to the crew here on the farm for having things looking great.
