

The cooler temperatures have sure been welcome, but could sure use some rain.

Armstrong recorded .14 of an inch and the Neely-Kinyon (NK) weather station is still not working, but very little there also.

Activities:

Garden Field Day was held with 90 people in attendance.

Good crowd, nice evening and good information

Mowing, spraying and cleaning up around the farm

Produce still being pick in the garden

Working on bean platform

Started work on corn head

Still working on FIMS project at feedlot

Getting a few items lined up for the upcoming Armstrong Field Day

Working with Dr. Delate on Organic Field Day at the NK farm

Visited with a few of the Wallace Board members about removal of old windbreak that was damaged in June storm

Getting things lined up to haul outdated electronics to campus

A big thanks goes out to Cindy Haynes and her crew for a great Garden Field Day. It was enjoyed by all.
